Member Update

Title: AFSL Register for NACMA website

Update No.: 11 of 08

Date of Issue: 30th April 2008

1 Background

A number of NACMA members hold Australian Financial Services (AFS) Licenses. For grain industry participants to access organisations that hold AFS Licenses they currently have to search a data base on the Australian Security Investment Commission website.

As an aid to facilitate trade, the Corporate Governance Committee is considering development of a grain industry register of AFS License holders with links to the ASIC website which detail all aspects of an organisation's license.

It goes without question, that to be on the NACMA register you must be a direct member of NACMA.

2 NACMA AFSL Register

To place your organisation on the NACMA register, please forward the following information to NACMA as per details below:

- Organisation name
- AFS Licence number
- Contact person & email address
- Website

3 Applications

Please lodge your details by Friday 30th May 2008 to Geoff Honey – admin@nacma.com.au .
